Master of Arts in English

The MA in English is a two-year program designed to introduce students to the advanced study of literature and/or film and prepare them for a variety of careers at the master's level or further study in a doctoral program.

The Department of English at the University of Kentucky offers four tracks leading to a degree of Master of Arts in English:

1. Master of Arts in English with a Concentration in Literature, Non-Thesis Option
2. Master of Arts in English with a Concentration in Literature, Thesis Option
3. Master of Arts in English with a Concentration in Film, Non-Thesis Option
4. Master of Arts in English with a Concentration in Film, Thesis Option

Students should select their track and notify the Director of Graduate Studies and the department manager by the end of their first year.

Requirements for the Master of Arts in English with a Concentration in Literature, Non-Thesis Option

1. 30 hours of coursework following a plan drawn up in consultation with the student's advisor. At least half the coursework must be at the 600-700 level. ENG 780, Directed Studies, may be taken only with the permission of the Director of Graduate Studies; ordinarily it can't be repeated. Students may count up to three courses (9 hours) outside the English Department toward the 30 hour requirement. Coursework must include:
 - a. Two courses based in a historical period, one before 1800 and one after 1800
 - b. One course emphasizing critical or theoretical perspectives
 - c. One course organized around a topic, theme, or genre

Although a course may be designated as fitting into several categories, a student may apply each course to only one. Courses from other departments can fulfill these requirements with the approval of the Director of Graduate Studies, based on a course description and/or syllabus. ENG 609, Composition for Teachers, may count toward the 30 hour requirement, but may not be used to fulfill one of the categories mentioned above. ENG 691 does not count toward the 30 hour requirement.

2. By the end of the spring semester of their first year, students should acquire a chair for the exam committee, and form their exam committee in full by the early fall of their second year (if not sooner). The committee consists of the chair of the committee and two additional faculty members. The committee must be approved by the Director of Graduate Studies. At least two committee members (including the chair or co-chair) must have graduate faculty status, and at least one of the two must be a full member of the graduate faculty. At least two members of the committee should be from the English department. The committee must be in place and approved by the Director of Graduate Studies by the end of the fall semester of the student's second year.

3. In the mid to late fall/early spring of their second year, students will, in consultation with their committee, construct a list of thirty texts which, in diverse ways, address a central focus. These texts will be the basis for their final oral exam at the end of the spring semester. The texts should reflect the range of courses taken in the program and should include at least five texts each from British and American literature. Once this list has been approved by the committee, the final examination may be scheduled. Students should contact Robin Rahija, Department Manager Associate, to schedule their exam.
4. Toward the end of the spring semester of the second year, the student will take a ninety-minute oral examination based on the thirty texts from their list. All committee members must be present for the entire examination (in extreme cases, committee members may use conference calls or skype, but must be available and in contact with the student and the rest of the committee during the entirety of the exam).
5. Students are expected to identify from their list 3-4 major ideas, intellectual threads, and/or pedagogical connections and discuss them in a 2-page (double-spaced) document (the "Synthesis") that highlights these intellectual points or developments or suggests how they might be introduced as units in a course. Students are responsible for sending it to their committees 1 week before the exam. It will be the starting point for Exam questions, but the 90 minute Exam is not limited to questions about this document. Students may bring a copy of this Synthesis and their book list to the exam, but no other notes should be consulted.

Important Deadlines and Paperwork for the Final Exam:

- During the spring semester of the second year, students must submit their application for degree through MyUK. The last day to submit the application for a Spring 2019 degree is February 20th, 2019.
- Students must submit the Request for Final Exam to the Graduate School: https://ris.uky.edu/cfdocs/gs/MastersCommittee/Student/Selection_Screen.cfm at least two weeks prior to their final exam. The last day to submit this form for a Spring 2019 exam is April 4th, 2019.
- The final day to sit for a Spring 2019 exam is April 18th, 2019

Doctor of Philosophy in English

The Ph.D. in English is a five-year program designed to prepare students for a career in academia. Although individual trajectories may vary, depending on the pace of self-directed work and the number of prequalifying residency credits waived, students typically take graduate seminars during the first and second years, complete the two-part qualifying exam during the third year, and write their dissertations during the fourth and fifth years. The English Department takes very seriously each student's steady movement toward the doctorate. All funding/financial aid offers are contingent upon making minimal satisfactory progress, which is outlined on page 19.

Requirements for the Doctor of Philosophy in English

1. 36 hours of coursework following a plan drawn up in consultation with the student's advisor. Coursework must include:
 - 24 hours of graduate seminars
 - All courses must be at the 500 level or above
 - At least 15 hours must be at the 600-700 level
 - ENG 601, 609, 691, and creative writing courses do not count toward the 24 hour graduate seminar requirement
 - Up to 2 courses (6 hours) outside the English department may be applied to the 24 hour graduate seminar requirement
 - 3 hours (1 semester) of ENG 700, while preparing for the qualifying exam
 - 6 hours of ENG 780, taken while preparing for the qualifying exam
 - Students wishing to teaching English literature courses must take ENG 611. This opportunity is available after completing the first year of the program.
 - The program's commitment to career training includes an emphasis on pedagogy and professional development. In addition to ENG 609, 611, and 691, students may also take up to two sections of ENG 771, which includes such subtitles as Advanced Pedagogy, Issues in Higher Education, and Diverse Classrooms.
2. During the first semester, students should meet with the DGS to discuss their early spring application for 3-18 hrs of Pre-Qualifying Residency Hours (PQRH). These are hours from a previous graduate program that will count toward a student's 24 seminar hours requirement. The number of PQRHs will impact the time it takes for a student to move through the program. Different timeline tracks are available at the end of this document. Students with a high number of PQRHs may choose to take a less accelerated track in order to take more department seminars. Students can get the PQRH request form from Robin Rahija.
3. During the second year (if not earlier), students will form their dissertation committee. The committee consists of four members. It must include a minimum of two faculty members from the English Department (with one being the chair), and one representative from outside the graduate program. All members of the core must be members of the Graduate Faculty of the University of Kentucky and three (including the chair) must possess full Graduate Faculty status. The committee must be approved by the Director of Graduate Studies and the Graduate School. All committee members must have graduate faculty status, and at least three (including the major professor) must be full members of the graduate faculty. The committee must be in place and approved by the Director of Graduate Studies by the midpoint of the spring semester of the student's second year. Once the committee has been formed, the student will submit the committee list for approval by the Director of Graduate Studies and the Graduate School via https://ris.uky.edu/cfdocs/gs/DoctoralCommittee/Selection_Screen.cfm

4. Once their committee is formed during the second year, students will decide on a major area and a minor area, and develop a list of texts for the oral portion of the qualifying exam, based on these areas. The major area, which will likely but not necessarily be a historical period, should include 70 texts, and the minor area, which will be either historical, special topic, or genre, should include 30 texts. This list should be completed and approved by the committee by the end of the spring semester of the second year, in order to give the student time over the summer to study the texts.
5. By the end of the fall semester of the third year, students will take the oral portion of the qualifying examination. The oral examination will last two hours and will include two components:
 - A week prior to the exam, the student will be given two or three questions formulated by their director in consultation with the rest of the committee, from which the student will choose one. He or she will then prepare a 20-minute presentation for their exam. Students are advised to focus on roughly six central texts for the presentation. While the presentation should not be read, and no notes may be consulted, students may use Powerpoint. During the next 40 minutes, the committee members will discuss the presentation.
 - The second hour of the oral examination will include questions and discussion of the texts from the major and minor lists. Students may consult an unmarked copy of their approved list during the exam, but no other notes are permitted.

Students should contact Robin Rahija, Department Manager Associate, to schedule their exam. All committee members must be present for the entire examination (in extreme cases, committee members may use conference calls or skype, but must be available and in contact with the student and the rest of the committee during the entirety of the exam).

6. During the second semester of the third year, students will write their dissertation prospectus under the guidance of their dissertation director in a Directed Study. The prospectus should be from 12 to 15 pages, followed by a (minimum 3 page) bibliography. Once the prospectus is complete and the committee has decided it is ready to defend (usually during—and not later than the end of—the second semester of the third year), students will contact Robin Rahija, Department Manager Associate, to schedule their two-hour prospectus defense with their committee.

Additionally, the student must submit a Request for Qualifying Exam to the Graduate School: https://ris.uky.edu/cfdocs/gs/DoctoralCommittee/Selection_Screen.cfm at least two weeks prior to their prospectus defense. Since the prospectus defense is the last part of the qualifying year, it is considered the official qualifying exam by the Graduate School.

Students should not schedule their prospectus defense until they have completed the two-hour oral exam.

7. Once students successfully complete the prospectus defense, they are officially in the post-quals/ABD stage of their degree, and may begin to work exclusively on their dissertation. At this point, students should continue to register each semester, for two credit hours of ENG 767, Dissertation Residency Credit. Each student should register for the section in which their dissertation director is listed as the primary instructor. Students do not need to register for ENG 767 during the summer, but do need to register for ENG 767 every fall and spring until they successfully defend their dissertation and complete the program. Students must complete at least two semesters of ENG 767 before they are eligible to sit for the final doctoral examination. Each student will have an annual review with their dissertation director to assess their progress, which will be reviewed by the Director of Graduate Studies.
8. After the student has completed his or her dissertation and his or her committee has decided it is ready for defense, the student will begin the process of setting up the dissertation defense (also known as the final doctoral examination). Students should contact Robin Rahija Department Manager Associate, to schedule the defense. The defense will last two hours. All committee members must be present for the entire defense (in extreme cases, committee members may use conference calls or skype, but must be available and in contact with the student and the rest of the committee during the entirety of the exam).

Students must submit a Notice of Intent to Schedule a Final Doctoral Examination to the Graduate School: https://ris.uky.edu/cfdocs/gs/DoctoralCommittee/Selection_Screen.cfm at least eight weeks prior to the anticipated defense date. This will allow the Graduate School time to find an outside examiner for the defense. Students also need to submit the application for degree on MyUK when they submit the Notice of Intent. At least two weeks prior to the defense, students must submit a Request for Final Doctoral Examination to the Graduate School: https://ris.uky.edu/cfdocs/gs/DoctoralCommittee/Selection_Screen.cfm

9. Once the defense is successfully completed, the student will have 60 days to submit the final copy to the Graduate School (or less than 60 days if the student intends to graduate that semester and the semester deadline is sooner). Students should refer to the Electronic Dissertation Defense Process website on the Graduate School site for details regarding how to submit the final dissertation: <http://gradschool.uky.edu/electronic-dissertation-defense>

The English Department has its own requirements for the maintenance of minimal satisfactory progress, as follows. Doctoral students are expected to:

- Maintain course grades of B and above in coursework. Two course grades below a B may result in dismissal from the program.
- Complete all incompletes before proceeding to the qualifying examination.
- Complete their coursework no later than their fifth semester in the program.
- Complete the relevant portions of the annual evaluation form and give a copy to the director by the spring deadline.
- Pass the first stage of the qualifying exam (“orals”) no later than 31 August of year 4. If the student fails on the first attempt, a second try is permitted. A second failure may result in dismissal from the program.
 - NB. This is the minimal satisfactory standard. Students are expected to pass the first stage of the qualifying exam in the fall semester of year 3.
- Submit an approved dissertation prospectus to the advisory committee no later than 15 January of year 4.
 - NB. This is the minimal satisfactory standard. Students are expected to pass the second stage of the qualifying exam (“prospectus”) in the spring semester of year 3.
- Advance to candidacy by successfully passing their qualifying examination no later than the end of year 4. Students who do not meet this requirement will be placed on probation and will be at risk of losing their funding.
- Complete and defend their dissertation by the end of the sixth year.

For extensions to this schedule, students may petition the DGS through their director and/or advising committees.
